Arthur Underwood and Phil Berg had a narrow escape from serious injury, if not worse, Sunday. They were walking along South High street, in front of the opera house, when a large piece of slate, which had been loosened by the wind, was hurled from the roof of the building and fell upon the pavement immediately in front of them, with such force that it was smashed into minute fragments.

Probate Judge Blessing, of Washington O. H., died very suddenly last Wednesday night. He was attending a Masonic lodge meeting when the attack came on, and was carried to his home, where he expired in less than an hour afterward. He was a prominent Mason and well known in Hillsboro. Probate Judge Hughes attended law school and graduated in the same class with Judge Blessing. The cause of his death was a hemorrhage, caused by the rupture of a blood vessel.

When F. D. Underwood left Minneapolis to Baltimore to take the position of General Manager of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad he brought a straw hat and linen duster expecting to bank in the balmy southern breezes that blow up Chesapeake Bay sometimes. Within ten days after he took charge two hundred miles of Baltimore & Ohio Railroad were blocked with snow and Baltimore had a worse blizzard than any one in the Northwest ever experienced. It cost the road about sixty thousand dollars a day for four days to get the track in condition to resume traffic, but the officials are very proud of the fact that they beat all competitors in getting trains through from Pittsburg and other western points to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. All of the through trains that were delayed by the storm were fortunately tied up at large towns, so that none of the passengers suffered from hunger or cold.

TRY THE
Selz Shoes
For Comfort and Wear.
CHARLES E. HAYNES

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1874, by NATIONAL ADVERTISING CO., in the office of the Librarian of Congress, Washington, D. C.

HEALTH & COMFORT.

NEATNESS & DURABILITY.

'Tis a Feat to Fit the Feet

BUT WE CAN DO IT!

And in order that our friends and patrons in the city and country may sharpen their wits, set their brains to work, rest their tongues and have delightful boot and shoes, we will take pleasure in presenting to the first lady customer who will bring us a correct solution of this rebus a handsome pair of SELZ SAPHO SHOES. First gentleman customer a pair of Vici Kid SHOES. First boy or girl a nice pair of SHOES.

All answers must be sent, in sealed envelopes, with name and address plainly marked. As we receive them they will be numbered consecutively from 1 up. A committee will be appointed to open the envelopes, starting at No. 1, and the first correct answer found will be awarded the prize, among the answers from the ladies, then the men, and, lastly, the boy or girl. This rebus will appear in this paper but once, and prizes awarded the 23d of March.

Send in the answers, and do not fail to get our low prices on boots and shoes.

CHAS. E. HAYNES

Cheap Cash Boot and Shoe Store.

N B—All answers to the above rebus must be in by March 22 1899, and be sure and state which paper you saw the rebus in.
